Do You Open Your Mouth

Like a young bird and gulp down whatever food or medicine may be offered you? Or, do you want to know something of the composition and character of that which you take into your stomach whether as food or medicine?

Most intelligent and sensible people now-a-days insist on knowing what they employ whether as food or as medicine. Dr. Pierce believes they have a perfect right to insist upon such knowledge. So he publishes, broadcast and on each bottle-wrapper, what his medicines are made of and verifies it under oath. This he feels he can well afford to do because the more the ingredients of which his medicines are made are studied and understood the more will their superior curative virtues be appreciated.

For the cure of woman's peculiar weaknesses, irregularities and derangements, giving rise to frequent headaches, backache, dragging-down pain or distress in lower abdominal or pelvic region, accompanied, oftimes, with a debilitating, pelvic, catarrhal drain and kindred symptoms of weakness, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a most efficient remedy. It is equally effective in curing painful periods, in giving strength to nursing mothers and in preparing the system of the expectant mother for baby's coming, thus rendering childbirth safe and comparatively painless. The "Favorite Prescription" is a most potent, strengthening tonic to the general system and to the organs distinctly feminine in particular. It is also a soothing and invigorating nervine and cures nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuralgia, hysteria, spasms, chorea or St. Vitus's dance, and other distressing nervous symptoms attendant upon functional and organic diseases of the distinctly feminine organs.

A host of medical authorities of all the several schools of practice, recommend each of the several ingredients of which "Favorite Prescription" is made for the cure of the diseases for which it is claimed to be a cure. You may read what they say for yourself by sending a postal card request for a free booklet of extracts from the leading authorities, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., and it will come to you by return post.

RIO JANEIRO.

In view of the interest in the progress of the American fleet around South America and its presence in the harbor of Rio Janeiro, a city about which little is generally known in the United States, the Directors of the International Bureau of American Republics, Mr. John Barrett, who has visited Rio Janeiro many times while Minister of different South American countries, has prepared the following statement:

Rio Janeiro, where the American fleet is spending ten days, is one of the most beautiful, interesting, and progressive cities of the world. It has a population and commerce that entitle it to first rank as a capital and metropolis. Its great size, its varied attractions, and its modern characteristics are not generally known and appreciated in the United States because it is out of the usual route of travel abroad.

The thousands of American officers and sailors, who are aboard the ships and who have not before visited South America, will be surprised at the magnitude and progress of this Brazilian city and will be deeply pleased with the splendid hospitality of the Brazilian government and people. No experience that any American fleet or squadron has ever had in Europe or Asia will even rival that which they will enjoy in Rio Janeiro.

As the fleet steamed into the Bay of Rio those aboard the ships beheld scenery and natural surroundings of unrivaled charm. This remarkable harbor is entered between mountainous promontories, and then it opens out into an expanse of deep water which would permit all the navies of the world to float safely at anchor. It is dotted here and there with islands of varying size. On the left tower the lofty peaks of the Organ mountains, while on the right the land slopes away gracefully to distant hills. Upon graceful crescents of the bay at the foot of the mountains and creeping up on their sides lies the city itself, with an appearance of solidity and strength worthy of the powerful republic of which it is the capital.

Within the limits of Rio Janeiro are nearly 900,000 people and it is growing so rapidly that the million mark will be passed before this decade is ended. No city in the United States, with the exception of New York and Chicago, is increasing its population more rapidly,

Its most striking features are the famous Avenida Central, its principal street, the boulevard system along the water front, the elegant public buildings and churches, and the presence on one side of the magnificent bay and on the other of lofty mountain peaks in its immediate suburbs, from which an incomparable view can be obtained.

The Avenida Central extends for a mile and a half through the very heart of the city and is as the Champs Elysee in Paris or the Unter den Linden in Berlin. It was constructed recently at a cost of $35,000,000 and would put to shame anything corresponding to it in Washington, New York, or Chicago. It is over 100 feet wide in the clear, while running along its center are handsomely designed ovals serving as refuges for passengers crossing and each one carrying an exquisitely designed pillar with three large electric lights. Alternating with these at the side of the roadway are decorative gas lamps. Illumination can thus be arranged to a nicety at any time of the day or night or for any function. Facing the Avenida are handsome buildings of harmonious design. Here are many of the clubs, new paper offices, the National Library, the homes of the most important commercial bodies and large department stores. At the north end is a pier for passengers who are coming and going from steamers. At the south is the National Opera House with the Monroe Palace, in which was held the third International American Conference and which is intended for public meetings of great importance. Other avenues parallel or at right angles to this Avenida are now in course of construction. The boulevard system is extensive and causes admiration. This begins at the bay near the south end of the Avenida and skirts the water around the crescent of Botafogo, beneath the magnificent peak of Corcovado and finally continues on towards the open Atlantic fifteen miles from the heart of the city. This grand driveway presents a variety of beauty at every turn and has no equal in Europe or the United States.

The mountains back of and surrounding the city are rapidly being converted into parks, villas, and locations for handsome residences. Tramways run to their summits where a panorama spreads before the eye not to be found in the immediate vicinity of any corresponding great city of the world.

Rio Janeiro possesses a system of waterworks, sewerage, electric tramways, electric lights, telephones, telegraphs, etc. equal to that in any city of North America. Automobiles abound and on every hand there are evidences of wealth. The city also has its commercial and manufacturing life that show its material growth. Its libraries, colleges, schools, and hospitals are conducted with up-to-date methods and are housed in capacious buildings with the latest facilities.

Brazil, of which Rio Janeiro is the capital, has a population of nearly 20,000,000. The most startling fact about the country is that it has a larger connected area than the United States proper, extending over 3,200,000 square miles. The total foreign trade of Brazil in 1906 amounted to $430,000,000, of which exports were valued at $265,000,000 and imports at $165,000,000, giving a remarkable balance of trade of $100,000,000 in favor of Brazil. These totals, moreover, represent an advance of $65,000,000 over the total trade of 1905, a positive indication of prosperity. That Rio Janeiro is a busy port is indicated by the fact that the total number of ingoing and outgoing vessels in 1906 amounted to nearly 4,700, with a total tonnage of about 7,000,000.

Although Rio Janeiro is often classed as a tropical city, being just north of the Tropic of Capricorn, it is situated so near the sea that it has the benefit of constant breezes. Close at hand, however, is the summer capital of Petropolis, at an elevation of several thousand feet, and resorts in the surrounding mountains where everybody can go to cool off if it gets too hot in town. Careful attention to sanitation has minimized the dangers from yellow fever and typhoid, which so long scourged Rio Janeiro and gave it a bad name in the world. An unlimited supply of the purest water helps to promote the physical welfare of its inhabitants. The latest health statistics show that the mortality rate is only 19.65 per thousand, which is lower than the average of Washington and many other leading American cities.

Take DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills They promptly relieve backache and weak back. Sold by W. F. Creighton.

Do the right thing if you have Nasal Catarrh. Get Ely's Cream Balm at once. Don't touch the catarrh powders and snuffs, for they contain cocaine. Ely's Cream Balm releases the secretions that inflame the nasal passages and the throat, whereas medicines made with mercury merely dry up the secretions and leave you no better than you were. In a word, Ely's Cream Balm as a remedy, not a delusion. All druggists, 50 cents, or mailed by Ely's Brothers, 56 Warren Street, New York.

ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

MONDAY EVENING, JAN. 13, 1908.

THE friends and backers of other presidential candidates are inclined to jeer at the claims put forth by some of the Taft boomers in behalf of their man. They say the alleged statement by the President that Mr. Taft already has enough States practically pledged for him to assure his nomination was put out expressly for the purpose of trying to organize a stampede to Taft among the bread-and-butter brigade for effect in Ohio and other States where things are at a critical point for the Taft boom. A list of States claimed for Taft printed recently in papers friendly to the Secretary of War excites the ridicule of the backers of other booms. Some of the latter claim to have positive information that President Roosevelt himself does not believe Mr. Taft is out of the woods and that he does not think enough States have been cinched for him to give him a clear majority of delegates in the national convention. It is asserted with positiveness by the anti-Taft men referred to that the President does not count among the States likely to be for Taft several that were included in the list published recently in the Taft papers.

THE bill now before the legislature for an increased appropriation to maintain the State militia is receiving considerable support and it is believed will pass. There was a time in the State's history when military companies uniformed and equipped themselves and asked but little from the State, but times have changed and conditions with them. It can hardly be expected of men now to give more than their time to militia duties, so the expense of maintaining armories and other expenses attending military organizations must be borne by the public. Then, too, military companies in every community are regarded as a reserve police force and under new laws they are liable to be ordered to distant parts of the State. This, in many instances, seriously interferes with the affairs of the individual members of military organizations and for this and many other reasons the men should be encouraged and a larger appropriation in their behalf should be made. Virginia's appropriation for her militia is small, indeed.

NEW YORK banks have got back into a condition of normal reserves. For the first time since the pinch became severe in October, the statement of Saturday, as stated in the Gazette of that day, showed a surplus in the reserve. The deficit has been well over forty millions, but has been rapidly diminishing for the past month; and now there is a surplus of six millions. By this time much of the money disbursed in the west and south in crop-moving must be back in the New York banks.

IT IS to be hoped that the present Thaw trial will be conducted with less regard to a certain public appetite for sensationalism than the last. A trial is conducted primarily to obtain justice, not to afford a field for the posturing of counsel. The previous hearing of this case awakened unfavorable comment throughout the whole world upon the operation of the criminal trial system. It is incumbent upon judge and counsel alike to see to it that no such impression is created this time.

THE AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT may soon be confronted with the problem of determining what is sausage. While most persons will agree with the circuit judge in Michigan that cereals and water are not sausage, no layman has ever felt competent to say what sausage is. The question, what is whisky? looks like a kindergarten brain burnisher in comparison.

IT IS now said in Washington that changed conditions on the isthmus may increase the cost of the Panama canal to $200,000,000, and there are many who believe that the cost will reach a half billion.

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, D. C., January 13.

The U. S. Supreme Court today declined to vacate the order of the United States Circuit Court in New York appointing receivers for the Metropolitan Street Railway Company, and the New York City Railway Company.

The United States will turn Cuba back to the Cubans in March or April of next year, if the recommendations made by Secretary of War Taft to the President today, shall be adopted, contained in a letter transmitting to the President the official report of Provisional Governor Charles E. Magoon on present and past conditions in the island. The report shows conditions now to be "very encouraging."

The Supreme Court today refused to review the judgment of the federal court of California, which issued an injunction against a strike on the coastwide steamers. The sailors union wanted the injunction set aside.

If rich American girls marry titled foreigners, then this government should tax all doweries, gifts, settlement or advances of property made to the titled foreigner. This suggestion was made today by Representative Sabath (dem. Ill.), in a bill offered in the House.

Senator Martin has recovered from a slight attack of grip and was in his seat in the Senate today. Mrs. Martin is at Seneca Lake, New York.

Fears of a flood in Washington are entertained at Harper's Ferry, where the Potomac is swollen out of all proportions.

It is already apparent that the Aldrich financial bill will be amended in some particulars before it is put upon its passage in the Senate. Democrats especially as well as a number of republican Senators, object to the proposed acceptance of first mortgage railroad bonds as security for the emergency circulation. They say that bonds of this character fluctuate in value too much to make them desirable as the basis of any part of the money of the country. The rate of tax proposed on the currency—half of one per cent. per month—is also liable to change, a number of senators believing that it is not high enough to force the retirement of the currency as speedily as it should, after the emergency has passed. A graduated tax, increasing in proportion to the time that the currency remains in circulation, is favored by many, among whom it is said is Speaker Cannon. The finance committee will begin consideration of the bill tomorrow.

Rev. C. D. Bulls, of Alexandria, has been invited by the Chaplain of the House to open that body with prayer one day this week.

Mr. Carlin has arranged for a hearing before the District of Columbia committee in reference to the erection of a railroad station north of the Long bridge, in this city, for the convenience of people from the south entering Washington. Mr. Carlin will also appear before the military affairs committee this week in reference to the building of a road from the Aqueduct bridge to the Arlington reservation. The road will cost $100,000 and has been recommended by the Secretary of War.

Mr. Carlin has been appointed on the sub-committee by the chairman of the committee on coinage, weights and measures to consider the bill requiring the restoration of the motto "In God We Trust" upon the money coined at the mints.

Mr. Carlin has received a letter from Secretary Metcalf stating that his request to detail sailors and marines to parade in Alexandria on the Twenty-second of February will be complied with.

Sixtieth Congress.

Washington, Jan. 13.

SENATE.

The deep anxiety of the Pacific coast for war defenses again manifested itself in the Senate today when a resolution introduced by Senator Ankeny was adopted. It called upon the Secretary of the Navy to report the cost of three additional submarines for the Pacific coast, two for Puget Sound and the other for Gray's Harbor, Washington. The secretary was also asked to report on the necessity for such purchase.

Secretary Cortelyou's administration of the Treasury Department came in for some heavy knocks from leading democrats. Mr. Culberson started the criticism when he inquired whether the Secretary of the Treasury had replied to a Senate resolution of early December calling for information relative to bond issues and public deposits.

Mr. Aldrich said assurance had been given that the response would be sent to the Senate Wednesday.

HOUSE

The House passed a bill giving to homesteaders, who for any reason have forfeited their homesteads except through fraud or valuable considerations, the right to apply for a second homestead just the same as if they had never applied for a homestead.

The House then took up the bill codifying the criminal laws.

A VENERABLE CONTEMPORARY

Will the Alexandria Gazette accept our very cordial congratulations upon the youthful vigor and vivacity which it preserves at an age that carries us back more than a hundred years, it having commenced its existence on the first day of the first month of the first year of the last century, namely on January 1st, 1800. It was if we mistake not, the second paper ever published in Virginia, the Williamsburg Gazette being the first. When its first issue was put forth the term of our second President had more than a year to run. But three new States had been added to the original thirteen that formed the Union; Napoleon had but recently returned from the failure of his Egyptian campaign, and the disappointment of his ambitious dream of founding an oriental empire, and had one month before by the coup d' etat of the 18th Brumaire seized the supreme power as First Consul. It was more than four months before he won the great victory of Marengo over the Austrians, by which he recovered the supremacy of France in Italy which had been lost during his absence in Egypt and Asia Minor. What changes have come over the face of human history, what great events have been written upon her pages, since our venerable Alexandria contemporary put forth its first issue. The Gazette says that a hundred years have elapsed since the originators of the paper paid the debt of nature, and that those now engaged in its daily preparation are the fifth generation who have wielded the pen and the scissors, and handled the type and presses. We trust that another hundred years of usefulness are still in store for this hoary but hale, this aged but still youthful contemporary.—[Charlottsville Progress.

DISORDER IN BERLIN.

After attending meetings yesterday at which inflammatory speeches were made some 30,000 socialists descended upon Berlin as a protest against the rejection by the Prussian Diet of universal suffrage.

They sang labor songs and the "Marsellaise," and shouted abuse upon Chancellor von Buelow. Processions marched through various streets, and there was much excitement.

The entire police force, armed with revolvers, were massed at regular intervals. They attempted to disperse the paraders, with the result that serious conflicts ensued.

One fight took place in front of the Colonial Exhibition Building. The socialists used sticks and clubs as weapons, while the police used their swords. Several on both sides were wounded.

Riots occurred later in Unter den Linden, where shots were fired. In two instances the mounted police made regular charges in Freidrichstrasse, injuring a number of the rioters.

The casualties number about a hundred. Three policemen and twenty-eight civilians were severely injured. Twenty arrests were made.

Badly Mixed Up.

Abraham Brown, of Winterton, N. Y., had a very remarkable experience; he says: "Doctors got badly mixed up over me; one said heart disease; two called it kidney trouble; the fourth, blood poison, and the fifth stomach and liver trouble; but none of them helped me; so my wife advised trying Electric Bitters, which are restoring me to perfect health. One bottle did me more good than all the five doctors prescribed." Guaranteed for blood poison, weakness and all stomach, liver and kidney complaints, by all druggists, fifty cents.

Fire in the union depot annex at Kansas City today did considerable damage. Much mail and express matter was damaged.

It is very important and in fact it is absolutely necessary to health that we give relief to the stomach promptly at the first signs of troubles. Yesterday's Disorders in Berlin

Berlin, Jan. 13.—Just how serious was the rioting of socialists in Berlin yesterday did not develop until today when it became known that, fearing a hostile attack would be made on him, the police virtually compelled Emperor William to call off a motor car trip he had planned for yesterday afternoon. This submission of the usual autocratic Kaiser to mob rule is regarded as the most remarkable event in William's reign.

With mobs surging through the principal streets and fighting constantly against the police gaurds who blocked their attempts to reach the imperial palace and Chancellor Buelow's residence, the muncipal authorities decided it would be positively unsafe for the Emperor to venture into the public throughfares.

His majesty had planned a ride to Grunewald forest on the western outskirts, where he delights to walk, and at first overruled the police objections to his trip. It was only when they urged that his appearance might stir the mob to a point where it would be impossible to control them that he yielded.

The police record, made today, shows that 124 persons were hurt, many of them seriously, during the rioting.

Fully aroused by the violence of yesterday's disordess in which they found it neccessary to fight with sabres and clubs against 40,000 determined Socialists and nearly as many more sympathizers, the police today served notice that further attempts at demonstrations will be met with severest repressive measures. At the same time orders have been issued to the police to be prepared to fire on crowds of demomstrators if they refuse to disperse. The authorities are determined to restore quiet and order at any cost.

DEATHS.

Mr. Robert E. Heyman, an old and well-known resident, died at the residence, No. 811 Prince street, this morning. The deceased was 70 years old. Mr. Heyman was born in Germany, but came to this country in early life and during the civil war took up his residence in this city. He was a musician and music teacher by profession, and was a member of an orchestra at old Liberty Hall in the early sixties and later at Parker's Theatre, which was situated on the site of the present Sarepta Hall. He remained here after the destruction of the theatre by fire early in 1865, following the vocation of music teacher. He was at one time organist of Christ Church and the Jewish Synagogue. The deceased leaves a widow (daughter of the late Wm. Wolf) and two children.

DISORDERLY SOLDIERS.

Several soldiers stationed at Fort Hunt who came to this city Saturday became disorderly at Prince and Royal streets late at night, and Mr. Thomas Travers, an employee of the electric railway company, arrested Charles R. Schafer, one of the party. He was taken to the station house, where he left collateral for his appearance this morning. The other soldiers boarded a train, and it is said were orderly on the way down the road, but when the train stopped at Hunter's, where the soldiers left it, one of the party hurled a bottle through a car window, and a piece of the bottle struck Robt. Harper on the head, cutting it seriously. Conductor Talbott snapped his pistol three times at the soldiers before he succeeded in discharging a shot. The railroad officials will have the soldiers identified. Schafer failed to appear in the Police Court this morning and forfeited his collateral.

RAIN, THUNDER, LIGHTNING.

Considerable rain fell last Saturday night, and a heavy fog hung over the river early yesterday morning. There were occasional showers during most of the day, with some thunder and lightning in the afternoon. Later the wind, which had been from the south, changed to the west, and clearing conditions and lower temperature followed. Rain, hail, thunder and lightning prevailed in Baltimore yesterday, and a summer thunder storm passed over Philadelphia.

There was but one case for trial in the Police Court this morning. A young Alexandrian, charged with disorderly conduct at Prince and Royal streets Saturday night, was fined $5. Two other white men, charged with disorderly conduct, forfeited their collateral by failing to appear.

PREPARING FOR PARADE.

The executive committee of the George Washington Birthday Association met at the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce Saturday night to hear reports of progress made on the coming celebration. The chairmen of nearly all the committees were present and submitted reports.

The secretary reported that the Secretary of War had assured Congressman Carlin that all of the troops stationed at Fort Myer, Fort Hunt, and the Arsenal would be in the line of parade. Besides the troops there will be a naval display, the high school cadets of Washington and firemen from the District of Columbia and Virginia. All of the fraternal organizations of the city will be represented in the parade.

The chairman of the finance committee reported that contributions were being received daily and that responses had been liberal. Treasurer William May announced that subscriptions amounting to nearly $1,000 have already been received by the finance committee. It was decided to ask the City Council for an appropriation of $200.

It has been suggested that the association extend an invitation to the President to be present upon the 22d. The meeting adjourned subject to the call of the chairman.

GOOD ROADS.

The largest and most enthusiastic meeting of Post F, Travelers' Protective Association, was held on Saturday night, at the Chamber of Commerce. The object of the meeting was to plan co-operation with the State organization in securing from this legislature the best possible good roads bill. It was stated that the present bill, known as the Lassiter-Withers bill, had enabled the highway commissioner, Capt. Wilson, to assist several counties in building twenty-five miles of macadam roadway. The Travelers' Protective Association will urge more stringent provisions for convict and jail bird labor and a larger appropriation, believing that the already growing demand of the counties for State aid in building roads will cause an extension making Virginia second to none in its highways.

The following resolution was passed, endorsing the action of the State board of directors:

That this association: Travelers' Protective Association of America, instruct the State legislative committee to prepare a good roads bill and present it to the present legislature. That the committee be instructed to employ necessary assistance in framing and securing passage of said bill. Upon motion of Mr. F. S. Harper, Messrs. A. D. Brockett and J. Y. Williams were unanimously appointed to aid the State chairman of the legislative committee, Mr. J. Hampton Fleming, of Richmond.

CHILDREN'S HOME.

The board of managers of the Children's Home held its annual meeting Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Kate Waller Barrett, 408 Duke street. The report of the treasurer for the year was very encouraging, showing a total $500 received for the support of the home. In spite of the prevalence of much sickness in the city, the health of the children at the home is excellent, there being no one on the sick list. It was the unanimous opinion of all present that the home is in a better condition than ever before, much credit being due to the faithful work of the board of managers, whose efforts have been ably seconded by the superintendant and matron of the home. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Chairman of board, Mrs. Amy O. Weech; vice chairman, Mrs. John Buckley; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Mollie Whatley; recording secretary, Mrs. Pauline Jones; assistant recording secretary, Mrs. Jorg; treasurer, R. M. Green, of the Citizens National Bank; assistant treasurer, Mrs. J. T. Mansfield. At the close of the meeting the ladies present were delightfully entertained by Mrs. Kate Waller Barrett, whose charm as a hostess is well known.

CASE SETTLED.

An attachment suit in equity for $33,000 damages for breach of contract, recently filed by Mr. James E. Clements, in the Circuit Court of the county, against the heirs of the late Charlotte L. Drain, was compromised and settled Saturday afternoon and a deed to Mr. Clements conveying twenty five acres of the Drain land, lying next to Mr. George H. Rucker's residence, near the county courthouse, was placed on record. The suit grew out of a contract made by Mr. Clements with Charlotte L. Drain for the sale of all her landed estate in the county; she died some months ago, and her children and heirs at law, who live in Cuba, desired to take charge of their mother's property and attempted to revoke their mother's contract and settle her estate among themselves.

Terrapin.

Terrapin begin laying about the middle of May and hatch in about thirty days. The female terrapin scratches a hole in the sand with her fore paws, deposits her eggs, from thirteen to nineteen, in it and then covers them up and leaves the heat of the sun on the sand to hatch out the young terrapins. They are not much bigger when hatched than a man's thumb nail and are as soft as dough. They crawl around pretty lively and begin to hunt for their food, consisting of small fish, crabs, etc. The first summer they are quite small, and about the first to the middle of November they go into their winter quarters. These consist of some soft mudhole in the marsh or on the bottom of some stream. Here they sleep until about the middle of April or later, when they come out and are of quite respectable size, say four inches in breadth. The next year they are six inches and the third seven inches in breadth. It is undoubtedly while the terrapin slumbers in the mud that he acquires the peculiar qualities for which we admire him. It is the only flesh known which one can crush in his mouth with his tongue without the aid of his teeth. The other animals run about, sleeping only at night. The terrapin sleeps night and day for six or seven months of the year and takes his night naps, too, for the balance of the year.—Baltimore Sun.

Pen Portrait of Grieg.

Here is as vivid a picture of Grieg the man as any that has yet been drawn. A correspondent who saw the noted Scandanavian composer when he received his honorary degree at Cambridge, in England, in 1894, makes it for the Manchester Guardian: "It was a sad and a strong face that we saw, one might almost have said a grim face, but that there was nothing of hardness in it, a face which must have inspired both respect and affection in all who met him. Yet as the little, old looking man stood there in the red and yellow gown of a doctor of music there was something incongruous about his appearance, the head, encircled with long, straight, white hair, appearing above the still stiffer, straighter lines of gaudy brocaded silk, which descended to the ground in the form of a regular cone, and the simile of one visitor, who remarked that they made him look just like a penwiper, was irresistibly accurate."

Beer Capacity of a Munich Porter.

An English family touring in Bavaria called at the world famous Hofbrauhaus, the pride of Munich, writes our correspondent. To the waitress serving them the head of the family in a matter of fact way simply held up his five fingers. To the family's astonishment, the waitress came back with five quart pots filled to the brim with beer. The visitors bravely struggled with the beer, but managed to dispose of only about a quart between them. Knowing that it would be considered an insult to leave beer, they called a porter and ordered him to finish it. In less time than it takes to relate it the Bavarian accomplished the task. Wiping his mustache, he demanded sixpence for the "job" and, having obtained the money, instantly ordered and emptied yet another quart pot.—London Mail.

A Waiter's Amazing Wail.

The waiter spoke indignantly.

"Men go about," he said, "complaining of being mistook for waiters, but it is on the other foot really that the shoe rests. Us waiters are the real complainants in these cases of mistaken identity. Our kicks are sincere. The others' ring false. For at dances and balls and such like crushes many a young man makes money by being mistook for a waiter. How does he make money? Why, he is tipped, and all them tips he pockets, never thinking of handing them over to their rightful owners. At every big affair we count on a loss of 5 per cent through the dishonest advantage that impecunious young swells take of being mistook for waiters."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Savage Sense of Humor.

Lecturing on New Guinea, A. H. Dunning said he once offered a native some smelling salts. After going through extraordinary contortions the native went away, returning soon with another native, whom he compelled to make acquaintance with the salts. The two brought a third, and so on until the whole village had been victimized. The savages watched each new sufferer with the keenest delight and took good care not to let him know what fate awaited him.—London Standard.

Ohio's Pioneer Town.

England's One Protestant Cathedral.

Truro cathedral is the only Established Church cathedral of any importance which has been built since St. Paul's was completed by Sir Christopher Wren. He Sure Was a Man!

When William Allen rose up in the early seventies and surprised the country by being elected governor of Ohio on the Democratic ticket one of the obstacles he triumphed over was the charge of being an old man. He addressed a great meeting at Mozart hall in Cincinnati the night following the day in which this ill advised charge had been brought against him by a responsible Republican leader. Strong, vigorous and well preserved as he was and retaining unbroken that quality of voice which had designated him as "Foghorn Allen" when he was in the senate, he was still politician enough to use it for all it was worth to him. After stating the charge in all its heinousness he straightened himself to his full height of more than six feet and, beginning in a loud voice, asked, "Am I a man?" The next question was in a voice pitched a scale higher and asked, "Do I look like a man?" But the third, in which he put out all of his tremendous vocal power, thundered to shake the roof in roaring, "Do I talk like a man?" The audience was thrilled. Such high physical power in a man of that age appealed to it irresistibly.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Fascination of Burglary.

"My champion burglar," said Mr. Holmes, the police court missionary, "is a bookbinder by trade, who has been in jail on and off for half a century."

Mr. Holmes' ramifications with this chronic breaker of the law constitute an instructive scene from his work. He behaved to the erring bookbinder quite as a brother; the man had the entree of the house and enjoyed the friendship of the family. How was he in the habit of repaying this hospitality? By going out to burgle. Twice Mr. Holmes set him up, but in vain. The only charm that life has for this extraordinary being is the opportunities it vouchsafes for committing burglary.

"Why on earth don't you leave off burglary?" Mr. Holmes asked him once. "Mr. Holmes," was his reply, "there's no fascination in the world to equal it. The silence of the night, the element of danger, the need of keeping every sense on the alert—it's grand."—Cassell's Journal.

Dealing in "Cats and Dogs."

No antiquarian pursues a more profitable or fascinating calling than the dealer in "cats and dogs," as the antiquities of Wall street are dubbed. "Cats and dogs" are the remnants of old stock, bond and note issues of railroad, industrial or mining companies on which payment of interest, dividends or principal has been in default for years. Some of these securities are worthless and obsolete, some of doubtful value, while a few are worth their weight in gold. Only the expert in obsolete securities can detect their worth. Many of these securities can be picked up at the official auction room of Wall street. Many brokers closely scrutinize the securities that are offered at this auction room, and only a few months ago 100,000 shares of stock in a certain mining company were sold for a song, from which the broker hopes to realize a big sum.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Phrases or Handcuffs.

It is customary to remark that modern problems cannot easily be attacked because they are so complex. In many cases, I believe, it is really because they are so simple. Nobody would believe in such simplicity of scoundrelism even if it were pointed out. People would say that the truth was a charge of mere melodramatic villainy, forgetting that nearly all villains really are melodramatic. Thus, for instance, we say that some good measures are frustrated or some bad officials kept in power by the press and confusion of public business, whereas very often the reason is simply healthy human bribery. We waste our fine intellects in finding exquisite phraseology to fit a man when in a well ordered society we ought to be finding handcuffs to fit him.—G. K. Chesterton in Illustrated London News.

May Turn Black.

Professor McMillan Brown, ethnologist, holds that the future Australian people will in all probability be black. The Polynesians, he said in a lecture at Sydney, came originally not from America, as has been supposed, but from Asia. They were whites and changed color, just as the future Australian may do as the centuries go on, at least in the tropical regions of the north. The violet rays of the sun will turn him black in course of time.

Sorry He Spoke.

"Really, Miss Primm, you ought to get married," remarked Wedderly. "You'll soon be in the spinster class if you don't hurry up and catch on."

"Oh, don't worry about me, Mr. Wedderly," replied Miss Primm. "If I were as easy to please as your wife I would have been married long ago."—London Telegraph.

Some Other Fellow's.

"With $100,000," said the man of expansive ideas, "I could make a fortune in Wall street."

"Yes," replied the piker, "but whose fortune would you make?"—Washington Star.
